Hazardous Materials:

At no time should Hazardous Waste be placed in with your household trash or recyclables. These items receive special handling, and are processed under separate Cumberland County Improvement Authority (CCIA) collection programs.

Most types of Household Hazardous waste can be properly disposed of during the annual CCIA Household Hazardous Waste & Electronics Disposal Days held on April 22nd, June 10th and September 9th, 2017 from 8AM-2PM at the Cumberland County Solid Waste Complex located at 169 Jesse Bridge Road, Rosenhayn, NJ.

Common hazardous items include: Automobile batteries, used Motor Oil, old Gasoline, Kerosene, Antifreeze, Herbicides, Cleaning & Garden chemicals, Oil-based paints, Stains and Thinners, corrosives and Propane Tanks.

For additional information and a complete list of items accepted, please see the Cumberland County Improvement Authority website at www.ccia-net.com or call (856) 825-3700.

Televisions/Electronics:

ATTENTION! As of January 1, 2011 New Jersey law states that electronic equipment including: Personal computers (laptop & desktop), Computer Monitors & Televisions of any size can NO LONGER be put in your household garbage. These items can be brought intact to the Convenience Center on Saturdays only from 7:00am-3:00pm. Residents are limited to (6) six complete units per visit. Proof of Bridgeton residency is required.
